ALEXANDER HALL
THE OLD SEMINARY

THE HISTORY OF THE SEMINARY.

In the year 1809 the proposal to establish a Theological Seminary for the Presbyterian Church was introduced to the General Assembly in the form of an overture from the Presbytery of Philadelphia. The Committee to whom the overture was referred, recommended that three alternate plans be submitted to the presbyteries: the first, to establish one school in some convenient place near the center of the Church; the second, to establish two schools, one in the North, the other in the South; the third, to establish a school within the bounds of each of the synods. The reports from the presbyteries received in 1810 led the General Assembly in that year to decide upon a single school and to appoint a committee to prepare a "Plan for a Theological Seminary," to be reported to the next General Assembly. In 1811 the plan reported was adopted. In 1812 the location of the Seminary was fixed temporarily at Princeton, New Jersey, a Board of Directors was elected, and the Reverend Archibald Alexander, D.D., was appointed Professor of Didactic and Polemic Divinity. In 1813, the Reverend Samuel Miller was appointed Professor of Ecclesiastical History and Church Government, and the location at Princeton was made permanent.

The Trustees of the College showed their interest in this settlement by allowing the use of its buildings to the Seminary students, and by offering space on the campus for the erection of any buildings necessary for the use of the Seminary. They also engaged that there should be no Professor of Theology in the College as long as the Seminary remained in Princeton. The classes were held at first in Dr. Alexander's study, and later for a time in the College buildings.

In 1815, the Assembly determined to erect a hall which should contain both the lecture rooms needed and lodgings for the students. The corner stone of this building, now known as Alexander Hall, was laid in that year, and it was first occupied in the autumn of 1817. It was built upon a tract of land containing seven acres, which had been purchased for the use of the Seminary. In 1820, the Assembly authorized the professors to appoint an Assistant Teacher of the Oriental Languages of Holy Scripture; and in the same year they appointed to this office Mr. Charles Hodge, a graduate of the Seminary, and a licentiate of the Church. Mr. Hodge accepted the appointment and was ordained. In 1822 he was elected by the General Assembly Professor of Oriental and Biblical Literature. In 1824 a charter, obtained from the Legislature of the State of New Jersey, was accepted by the General Assembly and in accordance with its terms the property and funds of the Seminary were placed in the charge of a Board of Trustees. This act of legislation incorporated the "Trustees of the Theological Seminary of the Presbyterian Church," making this the corporate name of the institution. With this incorporation the Seminary was constituted as at present.

On the twelfth of August, 1812, the first Seminary session, that of 1812-13, commenced. Three students were present at the opening, and eleven more were admitted during the session. In the ninety-three years of its existence, five thousand three hundred and thirty-two students have been matriculated, coming from nearly every State of the Union and from foreign countries. Of these, three hundred and fifty-three have entered upon foreign mission work.

THE DESIGN OF THE SEMINARY.

In the "Plan of the Seminary" as adopted by the General Assembly its design is stated in the following paragraphs:

"The General Assembly, after mature deliberation, have resolved, in reliance on the patronage and blessing of the Great Head of the Church, to establish a new institution consecrated solely to the education of men for the gospel ministry, and to be denominated The Theological Seminary of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America. And to the intent that the true design of the founders of this institution may be known to the public, both now and in time to come, and especially that this design may, at all times, be distinctly viewed, and sacredly regarded, both by the teachers and the pupils of the Seminary, it is judged proper to make a summary and explicit statement of it.

“It is to form men for the gospel ministry who shall truly believe, and cordially love, and therefore endeavour to propagate and defend, in its genuineness, simplicity and fullness, that system of religious belief and practice which is set forth in the Confession of Faith, Catechisms, and Plan of Government and Discipline of the Presbyterian Church; and thus to perpetuate and extend the influence of true evangelical piety and gospel order.

“It is to provide for the Church an adequate supply and succession of able and faithful ministers of the New Testament: workmen that need not to be ashamed, being qualified rightly to divide the word of truth.

“It is to unite in those who shall sustain the ministerial office religion and literature; that piety of the heart which is the fruit only of the renewing and sanctifying grace of God, with solid learning: believing that religion without learning, or learning without religion, in the minister of the gospel, must ultimately prove injurious to the Church.

“It is to afford more advantages than have hitherto been usually possessed by ministers of religion in our country, to cultivate both piety and literature in their preparatory course: piety, by placing it in circumstances favourable to its growth, and by cherishing and regulating its ardour; literature, by affording favourable opportunities for its attainment, and by making its possession indispensable.

“It is to provide for the Church, men who shall be able to defend her faith against infidels, and her doctrines against heretics.

“It is to furnish our congregations with enlightened, humble, zealous, laborious pastors, who shall truly watch for the good of souls, and consider it as their highest honour and happiness to win them to the Saviour, and to build up their several charges in holiness and peace.

"It is to promote harmony and unity of sentiment among the ministers of our Church, by educating a large body of them under the same teachers, and in the same course of study.

"It is to lay the foundation of early and lasting friendships, productive of confidence and mutual assistance in after-life among the ministers of religion; which experience shows to be conducive not only to personal happiness, but to the perfecting of inquiries, researches, and publications advantageous to religion.

"It is to preserve the unity of our Church, by educating our ministers in an enlightened attachment not only to the same doctrines, but to the same plan of government.

"It is to bring to the service of the Church genius and talent, when united with piety, however poor or obscure may be their possessor, by furnishing, as far as possible, the means of education and support without expense to the student.

"It is to found a nursery for missionaries to the heathen, and to such as are destitute of the stated preaching of the gospel: in which youth may receive that appropriate training which may lay a foundation for their ultimately becoming eminently qualified for missionary work.

"It is, finally, to endeavour to raise up a succession of men at once qualified for and thoroughly devoted to the work of the gospel ministry; who, with various endowments, suiting them to different stations in the Church of Christ, may all possess a portion of the spirit of the primitive propagators of the gospel; prepared to make every sacrifice, to endure every hardship, and to render every service which the promotion of pure and undefiled religion may require.

"Every student, before he takes his standing in the Seminary, shall subscribe the following declaration, viz.: 'Deeply impressed with a sense of the importance of improving in knowledge, prudence, and piety, in my preparation for the gospel ministry, I solemnly promise, in a reliance on divine grace, that I will faithfully and diligently attend on all the instructions of this Seminary, and that I will conscientiously and vigilantly observe all the rules and regulations specified in the Plan for its instruction and government, so far as the same relate to the students; and that I will obey all the lawful requisitions, and readily yield to all the wholesome admonitions of the Professors and Directors of the Seminary, while I shall continue a member of it.' "

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

Every person applying for admission into the Seminary must produce satisfactory written testimonials that he possesses good natural talents and is of a prudent and discreet deportment, that he is in full communion with some regular church, and that he has passed through a regular course of collegiate study; or, wanting this, he must submit himself to an examination in regard to the branches of literature usually taught in such a course.

When a student has been received under the care of a presbytery, and has passed with approbation his examination on the studies usually pursued in college, a certificate from the presbytery declaring this fact is received as sufficient to answer every requisition in regard to testimonials.

Students unable to comply with these entrance conditions may, nevertheless, on filing a certificate from their presbytery, or the ecclesiastical body under whose care they are as candidates for the gospel ministry, expressing its approval of their entrance upon theological study without further literary preparation, be received into the Seminary, enrolled with the classes and granted the usual certificate on completing the full course; but such students cannot be technically accounted students in full standing, or on completing the course, be enrolled as technically graduates of the institution.

When a student who has been connected with any other theological seminary seeks admission into this, he must produce testimonials of his good standing and regular dismission before he can be received.

These various testimonials must be presented to the Corresponding Secretary and Assistant Registrar, Dr. Vos, before the applicant for admission can be allowed to matriculate.

The Seminary course is designed to cover three years of special preparation for the ministry, and a full curriculum for the three years is provided, on the completion of which the certificate of graduation is conferred. Students are strongly recommended, when preparing for the Seminary at colleges where opportunity to do so offers, to make a beginning in Hebrew, Theism, Evidences of Christianity, General Apologetics, New Testament Greek, Patristic Greek and Latin, or the like, before entering the Seminary. Those whose previous work in such departments of study is found to be equivalent to any portion of the Seminary curriculum will be provided with advanced work, as is outlined on a subsequent page of this catalogue, and thus enabled materially to increase their theological knowledge, and, if they desire, to enter upon a course of study designed to qualify for the degree of Bachelor of Divinity.

The regular course is completed in three years; but students may with great advantage continue to pursue their studies in the Seminary for a longer period. It is not thought best to prescribe a fixed course of study for graduates. Each is at liberty to devote himself to those branches of theological learning for which he has the greatest aptitude, or which he judges to be most necessary or profitable to himself. Accordingly graduate students may make a selection from the extra-curriculum courses which are provided in each department, or they may individually conduct original investigations under the direction and with the advice of the professors and with the aid of the library, or with the approval of the Faculty they may attend the lectures and recitations of such of the regular classes as involve new work. The equivalent of at least twelve hours of class-room work a week is required of students who are admitted to the privileges of the fourth year.

LECTURES AND RECITATIONS.

The Junior Class averages each week of the session five exercises in Hebrew, one-half in Introduction to the Old Testament, one and a half in Old Testament History, one in Introduction to the New Testament, one in Exegesis of Paul's Epistles, two in Didactic Theology, two in Theism, one in Apologetics, one in Homiletics and one in Elocution.

The Middle Class has one exercise and a half a week in Introduction to the Old Testament, one and a half in Exegesis of the Psalms, two in Biblical Theology of the Old Testament, two in the Life of Christ and Exegesis of the Gospels, three in Church History, two in Didactic Theology, one in Evidences of Christianity, two in Homiletics and Church Government, one in Elocution and on alternate years one in Missions.

The Senior Class has one exercise a week in Introduction to the Old Testament and one in Exegesis of the Prophets, two in Apostolic History and Exegesis of Acts and the Epistles, two in Biblical Theology of the New Testament, three in Church History, two in Didactic Theology, two in Christian Ethics and Christian Sociology, two in Homiletic and Pastoral Theology, one in Elocution, and on alternate years one in Missions.

DEPARTMENTS OF INSTRUCTION.

In order to convey a clearer idea of what is actually taught in the Seminary, the following more explicit statements are made respecting the instruction given:

THE RELATIONS OF PHILOSOPHY AND SCIENCE TO THE CHRISTIAN RELIGION.

The aim of this course is to exhibit positively the reasonableness of Christianity as the supernatural and the final religion.

The Junior year is devoted to a general introduction to Apologetics; a critique of the reason, involving the discussion of its reality, its trustworthiness, and its limitations; and the philosophy of religion, under which are considered the definition of religion, its nature, its origin, its reality and its criteria.

The Middle year is given to the evidences of Christianity, experimental, internal, external, collateral, and that from the character and resurrection of Christ; and to the proof that the Scriptures are the divinely inspired record of this religion.

The Senior year is divided between Christian Ethics and Christian Sociology. Under the former are discussed Old Testament ethics, New Testament ethics, and the argument for Christianity from its ethical system. Under the latter are considered the teachings of Christianity as to the family, the nation and the school; and the argument for Christianity from the superiority of its social system.

A Post-Graduate course is also offered in Philosophical Apologetics. This develops the arguments for Christianity from comparative religion, from the philosophy of history, and from the philosophy of Christianity.

The whole subject of Theism, historical, constructive, and polemic, is discussed by President Patton, who delivers two lectures a week on this topic throughout the Junior year.

HEBREW.

Hebrew is taught throughout the course. But the grammatical study of the language as such is confined mainly to the first year, in which a larger portion of time is devoted to it than to any other single branch. The Junior Class is trained not simply in translation and parsing, but in the derivation of words and the comparison of synonyms and in converting English into Hebrew. A beginning is also made the first year in the application of the knowledge of the language to the work of exposition, which is carried out more fully in the subsequent years of the course.

INTRODUCTION TO THE SCRIPTURES.

General Introduction to the Old and New Testaments embraces the subjects of the Canon, the Original Languages of Scripture, Textual Criticism, and the History and Principles of Scriptural Interpretation.

Special Introduction embraces an account of each book severally, its authorship, integrity, design and structure, together with a general statement of its contents, and a more particular examination of the most interesting and important questions relating to its criticism and interpretation. The course is intended to include at least a general survey of every book in the Bible.

THE OLD TESTAMENT.

A general and comprehensive survey is presented of the various books of the Old Testament, in their individual plan and contents, and in their relations to one another and to the general scheme of which they form a part. The most important questions in criticism and exegesis that arise in each are considered, with a special reference to the gradual unfolding of revealed truth, the preparation for the coming of Christ, and the fuller disclosure of the New Testament. Particular attention is paid to the interpretation of typical facts and institutions, and to tracing the progressive scheme of prophecy. The Middle Class is also engaged in more detailed study of the Psalms and the Senior Class in that of the Prophets.

THE NEW TESTAMENT.

In the study of the New Testament an acquaintance with ordinary Greek is assumed; but careful attention is paid to the peculiarities of the Hellenistic dialect, particularly as employed by the New Testament writers. The exegesis of the New Testament is begun with the Junior Class by the study of the Epistles of Paul, and lectures are delivered on topics belonging to General Introduction. The life of Christ is exhibited in its several periods, with a careful analysis of the different Gospels, their mutual relations, their individual characteristics, and the harmony of their respective narratives. The Acts of the Apostles is studied both exegetically and topically, with prominent reference to the life and labors of the Apostle Paul and the early planting of the Christian Church. Special introductions to the various Epistles are inserted in their proper chronological order.

BIBLICAL HISTORY.

Old Testament History is studied as a history of events, the unfolding of the import of these events in the history of revelation being relegated to the department of Biblical Theology. The Biblical narratives themselves are studied as the source; but the course is supplemented by lectures which deal with the data furnished by the contemporary monuments of Babylon, Assyria and Egypt. Geography is also studied, so far as it pertains to the history. In like manner New Testament History, including the life of Christ and the work of the Apostles, is studied in connection with the books of the New Testament.

BIBLICAL THEOLOGY.

An equal place is assigned in the course to Old Testament and New Testament Theology. The point of view is that of the history of revelation; and in the various periods of the divine economy both the contents and the form of revelation receive attention. The instruction is by lectures supplemented by a text-book. In Old Testament Theology the plan and division adopted by Oehler are followed, with fuller discussion of the patriarchal period. A similar method is pursued in the treatment of New Testament Theology.

CHURCH HISTORY.

The instruction in general Church History is by lectures and recitations, with reference to sources and literature. While the main design of the course is to set forth historically the career of the Christian Church in its relations to the other elements of the life of the world, the development of Christian doctrine and the interior life of the church are also presented. Special treatises in each period are recommended for collateral study, and outlines of the course of lectures are provided to aid the students in taking notes.

SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY.

Systematic Theology is studied throughout the course. The doctrines of Theology are presented didactically, historically, and polemically. The order of topics pursued is:

The nature, forms and sources of Theology; the being of God, His nature and attributes; the Trinity; the divinity of Christ; the Holy Spirit; the decrees of God; creation; providence; miracles; the origin, nature and primitive state of man; the covenant with Adam; the fall; sin; imputation; original sin; inability; the covenant of grace; the person of Christ; His offices; the nature, necessity, perfection and extent of the atonement; His kingdom; His humiliation and exaltation; vocation; regeneration; faith; justification; sanctification; the law of God; the sacraments; eschatology.

ECCLESIASTICAL, HOMILETICAL AND PASTORAL THEOLOGY.

The study of Homiletics begins in the Junior year. The method of instruction is by lectures. The course includes: The proper idea and essential elements of a sermon; the classification of sermons; the choice of texts; origination of thought; invention; assimilation; the drawing of the theme; analysis of texts and the different classes of division; practical exercise in the making of divisions, with criticism of sermons delivered in the presence of a professor.

In the Middle year the study of Ecclesiastical Theology is begun. Instruction is by lecture. Subjects: The true idea of the Church; the organization of the Church; the Head of the Church; the claim of Papal supremacy; the officers of the Church, etc. The course of lectures on Homiletics is continued in the Middle year and includes lectures on introductions, on methods of treating the different heads of a discourse, and on illustrations in preaching, together with practical exercises in preaching and criticisms by a professor.

The Senior Class is instructed in Pastoral Theology by lectures. The study of Ecclesiastical Theology is continued, including lectures on the apostolic succession, priesthood of the ministry, ordination, the ruling elder, church discipline, etc.

ENGLISH BIBLE.

The object of this department is to secure as far as possible on the part of every student a general knowledge of the contents of the Old and New Testaments, and to provide for a study of the several books, with special reference to their use in the pastoral and missionary service of the Church.

MISSIONS.

The course on Missions treats of the philosophy, Biblical basis, history and Scriptural norm of missions, and affords instruction in methods of awakening, developing and directing the Church's interest in foreign missions. It comprehends the study of the place of foreign missions in comparative religion; the universalistic element in Biblical theology; the history of missions from the close of the apostolic period to the evangelical revival of the eighteenth century; the history, methods and results of Protestant missions; practical theology in relation to foreign missions. The course is conducted biennially in alternate years, the Middle and Senior classes being united for the purpose. It has a place in the schedule for the session of 1905-06.

RHETORICAL EXERCISES IN SERMONIZING.

DR. GREENE and MR. LOETSCHER preside at the weekly preaching of the Junior and Middle classes respectively. Each member of these classes is, in his turn, expected to deliver original discourses, memoriter.

The weekly preaching of the Senior Class is under the direction of DR. BURRELL, who also conducts exercises with the class in analysis of texts, and in writing and criticising sermons.

MR. HENRY W. SMITH, the instructor in elocution, is in attendance throughout the session, and gives a thorough course of teaching in this department, meeting the students both singly and in classes, and combining a careful discussion of principles with abundant and varied vocal exercises.

Every student is required, prior to graduation, to exhibit to the Professor of Homiletical Instruction two lectures and four popular sermons, which shall be approved by him.

VOCAL MUSIC.

As part of the practical training of the student for pulpit ministrations, instruction in vocal music is given by Mr. EDMON MORRIS.

EXTRA-CURRICULUM COURSES OF STUDY.

On application to the authorities of the University, students have the privilege of attending lectures in that institution, so far as these do not interfere with their regular duties in the Seminary. Under prescribed conditions, such work qualifies for the degree of Master of Arts.

In addition to the studies provided by the curriculum of the Seminary, collateral courses in the several departments are offered to the students, which enable them to devote larger attention to favorite studies and to lay broad foundations in knowledge. These collateral courses run from October 1st to April 15th, unless otherwise announced by the professors who offer them, and are concluded by an examination. The regulations respecting attendance and diligence which govern the ordinary work of the Seminary apply equally to these extra-curriculum studies, but it is optional with each student whether he undertakes these courses or not. Under prescribed conditions, extra-curriculum work qualifies for the degree of Bachelor of Divinity.

Students who, in college or other seminaries, have fully traversed the ground covered by any part of the curriculum of this institution, and are found to have attained due proficiency in these branches, are privileged and encouraged to substitute extra-curriculum work in the place of these studies.

Students who propose to undertake extra-curriculum work, whether it be intended merely to enrich the ordinary course or to serve as a substitute for work already done or to qualify for the degree of Master of Arts or Bachelor of Divinity, must make their election known to the Assistant Registrar of the Faculty in writing on or before the first day of October.

THE DEGREE OF MASTER OF ARTS.

Matriculated students of the Seminary, who hold the degree of Bachelor of Arts from Princeton University or any institution approved by it, may enter the Graduate Department of the University by matriculation and become candidates for the degree of Master of Arts. The degree may be conferred upon students thus qualified after they shall have taken graduate courses in the University involving at least three hours a week each term for four terms, that is for two years when the terms are consecutive, and stood satisfactory examinations upon these courses, and done such extra reading as may be assigned. The fee is fifteen dollars.

During the session of 1903-1904 the work prescribed for the degree was completed under these conditions by H. E. Blair and C. C. McIntire, graduates of Park College; H. Brown, a graduate of Cliff College, England; D. N. Dobson, a graduate of Washington College; H. G. Finney and R. K. Hickok, graduates of Wooster University; A. W. THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF DIVINITY.

This degree may be conferred on a Bachelor of Arts of any college approved by the Faculty, who shall also have completed a three years' course of theological study in any similarly approved institution or in this Seminary, and a one year's course of extra-curriculum study in theology at this Seminary. This course of special study shall be arranged, and the examinations shall be conducted, by the Faculty with the concurrence of the Directors.

SPECIAL LECTURES.

The foundation created by L. P. Stone, Esq., provides for an annual course of lectures upon some topic kindred to theological studies. The Students' Lectureship on Missions had its inception in the minds of the undergraduates of the Seminary, and its endowment was secured largely by their efforts. It provides for an annual course of lectures on some topic connected with missions of practical importance to those who are looking forward to the foreign work.

FELLOWSHIPS AND PRIZES.

Three fellowships have been established—one in Old Testament studies, one in New Testament studies, and one in studies subject to annual designation by the Faculty. Each of these fellowships is governed by the following general rules: Unless otherwise announced, it is awarded to that member of the graduating class who stands highest in a special examination held in April, and who, in addition, prepares the best thesis on an assigned theme, which he presents on or before the first day of April. But no student can receive a fellowship who is not a Bachelor or Master of Arts of some approved college or university; and it is not awarded to one who has not spent at least two years in this Seminary, nor unless he passes a satisfactory examination on all the studies of the regular course, nor unless his specified examination and thesis are decidedly meritorious. The thesis must be signed by an assumed name, and accompanied by a sealed envelope containing the real name of its author. According to convenience, the thesis may be handed to the Librarian of the Seminary, or left at the house of the Professor in charge of the department. The fellows have the privilege of studying either at Princeton or at an approved European university under the direction of the Faculty of the Seminary. Fellows in residence at a foreign school of learning must secure the approval of the Faculty on the course of study which they desire to pursue, and report from time to time to the head of the department within which the fellowship which they hold has been conferred.

GEORGE S. GREEN FELLOWSHIP.

This fellowship was founded in 1879 by George S. Green, Esq., of Trenton, N. J., for the encouragement of advanced study in Old Testament literature. It yields $600 in quarterly payments. The subject of the thesis for this year is: The Messianic Psalms: their Interpretation and Date. The examination will be upon the exegesis of these psalms.

The subject for the thesis next year is: The Hebrew Patriarchs. As a preparation for writing on this theme, the various current theories regarding the patriarchs should be classified, and the origin and historical development of these interpretations, together with their philosophical affinities, might well be traced; the narrative itself should be critically considered; the testimony of archæology should be secured and its value determined; and the references in the Scriptures outside of Genesis, in both the Old and the New Testament, should be examined and correlated to the discussion.

ALUMNI FELLOWSHIP.

The Alumni fellowship in New Testament studies was established in 1889 by gifts from the graduates of the Seminary, and rests on a fund which now amounts to about seven thousand dollars. The Archibald Robertson scholarship was founded by Mrs. Robertson, of New York City, by the gift of five thousand dollars, with the view of encouraging high attainments in some branch of theological learning. For the present it has been arranged that the scholarship shall be awarded to the holder of the Alumni fellowship. The combined funds now yield about $500, which is paid to the fellow and scholar in quarterly installments.

The subject for the thesis this year is: A Critical Discussion of the New Testament Account of the Birth of Jesus.

For next year the subject is: The Nature and Significance of the Parabolic Teaching of Jesus.

WILLIAM HENRY GREEN FELLOWSHIP.

By bequest of the Reverend Professor William Henry Green, a fellowship was founded in 1900. It is not permanently attached to any one department of the curriculum, but the department in which it is competed for and enjoyed is designated by the Faculty one year in advance. The foundation is ten thousand dollars, and the annual income accruing from this fund, amounting at present to about $400, is paid to the holder of the fellowship in quarterly installments. The thesis must not contain less than ten thousand words nor more than twenty thousand.

The fellowship will be conferred this year in the department of Biblical Theology. The subject will be: Our Lord's Utterances, recorded in the Synoptic Gospels, on His Messiahship, with special reference to their genuineness, content, and bearing on the question of the place which He claims for Himself in the gospel.

The fellowship will be conferred next year in the department of Semitic Philology. The examinations will be on the following subjects: 1. Hebrew: Genesis, Deuteronomy, the earlier prophets, and Hebrew syntax. 2. Arabic: Brünnow's Chrestomathy and Habicht's Arabian Nights, Vol. I., pages 1-100. 3. Syriae: Joshua the Stylite, Addai the Apostle, and the Peshitto New Testament. 4. Assyrian: Delitzsch's Lesestücke and one hundred pages of selections from the annals of the Assyrian kings. The thesis will be on the subject: Semitic Magic.

BIBLICAL PRIZES.

The prizes offered by Mr. Robert Carter are continued by his family: fifty dollars' worth of books will be presented to that member of the Senior Class who shall prepare the best thesis on an assigned subject in Old Testament literature or exegesis. The second and third in merit will each be presented with ten dollars' worth of books.

The Rev. Horace C. Stanton, Ph.D., D.D., an alumnus of the Seminary, has founded the Benjamin Stanton prize in memory of his father, which is open to competition to members of the Middle Class: fifty dollars will be awarded for the best thesis on an assigned subject in Old Testament literature or exegesis.

Messrs. Charles Scribner's Sons offer fifty dollars' worth of their publications to that member of the Senior Class who shall prepare the best thesis on an assigned subject in New Testament literature or exegesis. The second and third in merit will each be presented with ten dollars' worth of their publications.

Mr. Alexander Maitland, of New York, has founded the Robert L. Maitland prize in memory of his father, which is open to competition to members of the Middle Class: one hundred dollars will be given for the best exegesis of a passage in the New Testament, and fifty dollars for the second.

The first Carter prize was awarded last year to Henry George Howard, a graduate of the University of Texas, and the second to Matthew Foster Johnston, who received his academic training at Queen's College, Belfast; the Stanton prize to Henry Peter De Pree, a graduate of Hope College, Michigan; the first Maitland prize to John Gresham Machen, a graduate of Johns Hopkins University, and the second to John Van Peursem, a graduate of Hope College.

The themes assigned for the present Seminary year are:

For the Carter prizes: The Meaning and Fulfilment of Jer. xxxiii, 12-26.

For the Stanton prize: A Critical Discussion of Ex. xxxiv.

For the Scribner prizes: The Significance of the Title "Son of God" in the Gospels. Next year the subject will be: The Doctrine of Justification in the Epistle of James.

For the Maitland prizes: Critical Exegesis of Ephesians i : 1-14. For next year the subject will be: Critical Exegesis of Romans viii.

All essays competing for prizes must be handed in on or before April 1st.

The prizes are accessible only to students who are taking the full regular course.

RELIGIOUS EXERCISES.

Daily prayers, which every student is expected to attend, are conducted in the morning by members of the Senior Class, and in the evening by the professors.

On Sabbath mornings the professors preach in rotation in the Seminary Chapel. In the afternoon a Conference is held in the Oratory, at which the professors conduct the discourse on a subject previously announced, and the students conduct the devotional exercises.

A meeting for devotion and for instruction in general lines of Christian activity is held every Wednesday evening by the students. Addresses are delivered by men prominent in religious work. The meeting on the first Wednesday evening of each month is the concert of prayer for missions and is under the direction of the professors. At the missionary meetings during the session of 1903-4 addresses were delivered by the Rev. Robert Hamill Nassau, D.D., of Western Africa; Rev. Charles E. Bradt, D.D., of Wichita, Kans.; Rev. James E. Adams, of Korea; Rev. Frederick G. Coan, of Persia; Rev. Henry C. Velte, of India; and Rev. James Wollaston Kirk, of Alaska. The Synodical Missionary, Rev. A. Christy Brown, D.D., of North Dakota, spoke at a meeting in the interest of Home Missions. Various other meetings for devotion or mutual exhortation are maintained by the students either as a body, or by each class separately.

Abundant opportunities for active usefulness and observation of pastoral life are afforded in Princeton and its vicinity. A large number of students regularly engage in the conduct of religious meetings, in Sunday School instruction, and in other kinds of Christian work.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

thousand dollars given by the late Rev. Dr. Samuel M. Hamill, of which the income is for the purchase of books on foreign missions; also a fund of three thousand dollars, given by Mrs. R. L. Kennedy, of Philadelphia, the income of which is for the purchase of books on church history.

The Library is open four hours on Saturday and six hours every other week day for reading and consultation, and for drawing of books. Certain text-books may be kept out during the entire term. The older building is open day and evening as a reference library and reading-room.

The Library staff consists of the librarian, Rev. William B. Sheddan, assistant to the librarian, Miss C. M. Alexander, cataloguer, and Miss Margaretta Terhune.

Students are also entitled to the free use of the Library of the University.

The reading-room is well supplied with the leading newspapers and periodicals. It is open to all the students.

STUART HALL.

This admirable structure, erected by Messrs. R. L. and A. Stuart in 1876, affords most ample and complete accommodations in the way of lecture-rooms and apartments devoted to other public uses of the institution.

DORMITORIES.

Alexander Hall, long known as the Old Seminary, was the first building erected by the Presbyterian Church in the United States for seminary purposes. It was first occupied by the students in the fall of 1817. In it the rooms, whether intended for one occupant or two, are connected with a separate bedroom.

PARLOR OF ALEXANDER HALL

THE OLD ORATORY

Brown Hall is a memorial of the munificence of Mrs. Isabella Brown, of Baltimore. The corner-stone was laid by the Moderator of the General Assembly on the 21st of May, 1864, and it was occupied in the fall of 1865. It is the dormitory of single rooms. They are well lighted, easily ventilated and commodious.

Hodge Hall, built by money bequeathed by Mrs. Mary Stuart, widow of Mr. Robert L. Stuart, of New York, was completed during the summer of 1893. The rooms are in suites, each study having a separate, connecting bedchamber, or, in the few cases where the study is to be shared by two occupants, a separate sleeping apartment for each.

Each of these dormitories is provided with fire escapes and contains bathrooms and a parlor.

ROOMS.

The rooms in the several dormitories are furnished with bedstead, mattress, pillows, bureau, washstand, chairs, table, looking-glass, bookcase, and either a clothes-press or a closet. Whatever may be needed or desired beyond this general provision must be obtained by the students themselves.

Every student is provided with a room either in the dormitories or, in case they are full, in the town. The drawing for vacant rooms in the dormitories by entering students takes place at 3 P. M. on the first day of the session. A double room will be assigned previous to the opening day to accepted students who wish to room together, if they make application either in person or by letter.

EXPENSES.

There is no charge for tuition or room rent. The only fees required of students are $10 for the general expense fund, to pay the cost of warming and lighting the public rooms, the attendance of servants, etc., and $2 for the use of the Library and reading-room. Board can be obtained in clubs at $3.50 per week; in private families for from $3 to $5. Fuel costs from $10 to $15 per annum, and washing $1.50 per month. Total of necessary expenses, outside of text-books, for the Seminary year, $160.

Books can be bought at a liberal discount, and some class books are provided in the Library.

AID.

Deserving students, whose circumstances require it, receive aid to a limited extent from the scholarships of the Seminary, and from special funds contributed for this purpose. Students needing aid should apply first to the Board of Education through their presbyteries. If the Board's scholarship should prove insufficient, an additional sum will be granted from the scholarship funds of the Seminary. Application for aid from the scholarship fund should be made to Dr. DeWitt.

Students are advised not to engage in teaching or other distracting occupations during term time, with a view to self-support. This is found to interfere seriously with their attention to study, and is intended to be rendered unnecessary by the aid which they may receive from the aforementioned sources.

CARE IN SICKNESS.

In case of severe illness, the student has admission to the Isabella McCosh Infirmary, in which one bed has been fully and another partially endowed in behalf of the Seminary. The endowment does not cover the expenses for food, nursing and medical attendance.

REPORTS TO PRESBYTERIES.

Annual reports are sent to presbyteries of the attendance of students under their care upon the exercises of the Seminary. In case of deficiency in scholarship this also is reported.

EXAMINATIONS.

The annual examinations are conducted in writing and the results are submitted to the Committee on Examination and Visitation appointed by the Board of Directors. The Committee for the present session consists of the Directors whose term of office expires in May, 1905, with the Hon. William M. Lanning, chairman, and the Rev. John Fox, D.D., secretary. The midyear examinations will be held on Tuesday, January 10th, and the final examinations will begin on Wednesday, April 26th, and be continued until Friday of the following week. Students who are absent from the examinations of their class, or who fail to pass this test in a satisfactory manner, must submit to an examination before the second Tuesday of the ensuing October, or lose their standing in the Seminary. The examinations necessary for this purpose are held during the last week of September and the first week of October, according to a published schedule.

THE ACADEMIC YEAR

opens on the third Thursday of September, and closes on the Tuesday before the second Saturday in May.

New students matriculate when they present the prescribed credentials to the Assistant Registrar. The drawing for rooms by newly matriculated students takes place in Hodge Hall, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon of the first day of the session. The opening address is delivered in Miller Chapel at 11 o'clock A. M., on the following day.

The Board of Directors holds two stated meetings each year; the first on the second Tuesday of October, the second on the Monday before the second Saturday in May. Both begin at 2 P. M. The Board of Trustees also holds two stated meetings annually; the first on the second Tuesday in November, and the second on the Tuesday before the second Saturday in May. Both begin at 3 P. M.

The annual sermon at the close of the session will be preached on Sabbath, May 7th, by a member of the Board of Directors. At this service the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered.

LENON LIBRARY

The usual diplomas will be conferred on the next graduating class on Tuesday, May 9th, in the presence of the Board of Directors, when the students will be dismissed with an address.

VACATIONS.

The long summer vacation presents a suitable opportunity for engaging in teaching, or in other remunerative occupations. Students are particularly encouraged to spend their vacation in practical Christian work, under the direction, or with the approbation of their Pastors, Presbyteries, or the Boards of the Church. This will furnish a most important supplement to the training of the Seminary, affording an experience and familiarity with the active duties of the ministry, which will be invaluable as a part of the preparation for the sacred office.

A recess of two weeks is also taken at the Christmas holidays.

LOCATION OF THE SEMINARY.

The seclusion and quiet of a rural village is particularly favorable to academic occupation. It was chiefly for this reason, and for the additional advantage of proximity to the College of New Jersey, now Princeton University, that the General Assembly, after mature deliberation, selected Princeton as the site of the first seminary of the Church. Princeton is in quick and easy communication with the neighboring cities of New York and Philadelphia, while yet it is sufficiently removed from them to be free from all distracting influences.

GIFTS AND BEQUESTS TO THE SEMINARY.

The corporate name of the body in charge of the property of the Seminary is "The Trustees of the Theological Seminary of the Presbyterian Church located at Princeton."

Gifts may, at the pleasure of the donors, be directed to the Permanent Fund, which is for the support of the Professors; to the Education Fund, which is for the aid of needy students; to the Contingent Fund, which is for defraying the general expenses of the institution, its buildings, grounds, etc.; to the Sustentation Fund, designed to diminish the expenses of boarding; to the Library Fund, or to any other important object connected with the Seminary. The value of a scholarship is from $2,500, which is the minimum, to $3,000.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF THE SEMINARY.

The Alumni Association of the Seminary will hold its annual meeting in Miller Chapel on Tuesday, May 9th, at the close of the Commencement exercises. The Alumni will dine together in Stuart Hall.

The officers of the Association for the present year are as follows: President, Edward B. Hodge, D.D., of Philadelphia; Vice President, Professor John DeWitt, D.D., LL.D., of Princeton; Secretary, Rev. Joseph H. Dulles, of Princeton; Treasurer, William Brenton Greene, Jr., D.D., of Princeton. These with Rev. J. Stuart Dickson and John B. Laird, D.D., of Philadelphia, and Rev. Samuel C. Hodge, of Princeton, constitute the Executive Committee.

THE ANNUAL NECROLOGICAL REPORT.

This publication, begun in 1875, contains a brief biographical notice of each of the Alumni of the Seminary dying within the course of a given year. It is prepared by the Secretary of the Alumni Association, who earnestly solicits early and full information respecting deceased Alumni.

THE GENERAL CATALOGUE.

The General Catalogue of the Seminary was revised and brought up to date in 1894. It contains biographical data of all former students of the Seminary, making a volume of four hundred pages. It will be sent free to former students on application to the Librarian.
